

South Coast AQMD's Environmental Justice Community Partnership in coordination with the Center for Community Action and Environmental Justice (CCA EJ) invite you to attend

A Special Presentation of Recent Studies on Children's Health and Air Pollution

Wednesday, June 17, 2015

6:30 p.m. - 8:30 p.m.

Mira Loma Middle School
5051 Steve Avenue
Jurupa Valley, CA 92509

FREE

(Refreshments provided)

Hear from the researchers directly involved in the studies:

- USC Children's Health Study on long-term effects of air pollution on respiratory health of children
- Children's Hospital of Los Angeles Study on prenatal exposure to air pollution

And a conversation with local practitioners who deal with the impact of air pollution on their patients

The Environmental Justice Community Partnership is a program of the South Coast Air Quality Management District designed to strengthen relationships and build alliances with community members and organizations with the goal of achieving clean air and healthy, sustainable communities for everyone.
