To Whom it May Concern,

I left Los Angeles county during the pandemic to move to the mountain communities in San Bernardino. As a full-time resident up here, I am understanding how unique this area is-- and how largely forgotten it is by board members who have no connection to these communities, except when it comes to tax dollars.

It has come to my attention that due to the implementation of Rule 1111, which directly affects my ability to gain access to heating equipment that has been proven to work reliably and affordably to properly heat my residence in the mountain communities is now in jeopardy.

This decision will have a ripple effect on small and medium-sized businesses as a time when the working class has barely made it through the pandemic. This is a perfect example of yet another great-on-paper decision that will have a detrimental impact on tens of thousands of people. To ignore us is unconscionable.

I urge you to vote to exempt the high altitude areas of the SCAQMD from rule 1111.

Sincerely,
Evan Brown
